

About Team Guna

Team Guna is a real estate company based in Canada.

Features and requirements

1. Listings management
 - I. Create, Edit, update and delete sold listings via the admin panel
 - II. Automation script to pull and update current listings from MLS (legally)*
 - III. Upload and reorder the images for the slider
2. Email management
 - I. Create and categorize emails and contacts
 - II. Create email templates*
 - III. Schedule promotional email to a particular group
3. UI/UX
 - I. Responsive pages
 - II. Admin panel with dashboard (Summary of all features with daily, weekly, monthly, and yearly filters)
 - III. Listings
 - IV. Listings (Map view) *

My role in Linen

I was assigned as a full-time full-stack developer to design and build the entire application. Also, I got the freedom to choose the technologies and frameworks but not for some features of the application. So, I select the Laravel for backend and React with MUI. Due to a confidential agreement with the client, I cannot give information about the features and packages (which I have not mentioned above);

My responsibilities

- Project planning from the beginning to completion, such as technologies, frameworks, continuous delivery, bug fixing, version control (GIT), and others
- Convert requirements into small tasks and assign deadlines to me
- Gather and evaluate client feedback
- Verify and deploy the application
- Integrate software components and third-party programs such as payment gateway

Challenging part (marked *)

- Automation script
 - Why – there's no well-written documentation I cannot produce a better script because any illegal data pulling like scrapping will result in permanent account termination and legal offenses
 - How I overcame – I have no choice but to understand their tiny so-called documentation (word file) and went through their actual site to know how their system works. After some time I develop a script that was legal and allowed.
- Create email templates
 - Why – The client wants me to develop an email template-making tool (simple) without other packages.

- How I overcome this – First I create tiny components for the tool such as Images, titles, Paragraphs, and Columns. Then I converted the components into plain HTML and CSS with browser compatibilities in mind. The result was a responsive email template that works on all major browsers
- Listings Map
 - Why – Large volume of listings will be returning for a particular location and I have to show in a map view a pin marker for each listing via google map API
 - How I overcome – Since the volume is larger I suggest to the client that I will show the low amount of listings results at first and run the script in the background so the user may not find them or wait for loading. Optimize google map API for cost efficiency

Key points that I've used to make this project successful

- Breakdown the requirements into small tasks
- Split the UI into small components for reusability
- Follow and implement best coding practices and standards such as ECMAScript, PSR, and DRY
- Always evaluate the client's feedback whenever a task or feature is completed
- Give freedom to clients to decide/choose rather than forcing them to accept my decision
- Advice and suggestions to the client for better such as new features, feature improvements, and UI/UX ideas
